BOVRIL ISN'T DEAR,

in fact, value for value, it is one of the cheapest drinks and one of the most economical foods that can be obtained. A cup of hot Boyril costs less than a drink of whisky, and while giving a more genuine and lasting warmth than the latter, contains, in addition, the nutritive principles of beef worth many times its cest.

Old fashioned beef teas and meat extracts, whether known as such, or disguised under more pretentious modern names contain none of the NUTRITIVE properties of beef. Baron Liebig himself admitted this fact; there is not a doctor to day disputes it. Used as a nourishment. Meat Extract is probably the most ex pensive article one can buy. Boyril one of the cheapest.

Sulcide of a British Soldier. Poona, March 10,-Corporal Charles Perkins, of B. Company, the Buffs, stationed here, has committed suicide. The deceased appears to have been moody for some days past, and on the previous day burnt his letters. On parade, the Captain of his Company is said to have shouted out to him, 'Hurry up, do you think you're going to a funeral?' The deceased told his comrades that it was enough for him, 'he was fed up.' Later he was seen getting out a razor, and some time afterwards his body was found in the latring with the head nearly severed from it. The deceased, who was undoubtedly in one, was buried last evening with a military funeral.

Parliamentary Sequel to the

'Ragging.' London, March 12 .- Angry scenes took place during the evening sitting on the motion of Mr D. V. Pirie, claiming that removed officers should have the right of court-martial. Mr St. John Brodrick demanded the withdrawal of Mr Pirie's references to Lord Roberts in connection with the dismissals. He repudiated Colonei Bromley-Davenport's allegations that accial and secret influence wa penalizing officers. He protested against a system of errorism of the War Office, and justified Lord Robert's action in connection with Colonel Kindoch. The motion was defeated by 185 against 57. The Child-Custody Case.

Calcutta, March 14.-The London correspondent of the Indian Daily News telegraphs that, instead of handing over her daughter to her divorced husband, as ordered by Sir Francis Jeune, Lady Granville Gordon has disappeared and has apparently taken her child with her. especially by abolishing the bishop's veto.

The Bill reflects the growing feeling that exists in many circles that hishops are too indulgent regarding ritualistic extravagances.

The Archbishop of Canterbury, several Bishops, and many peers were present at the debate, in which Sir William Harcourt and Mr Balfour participated. The latter said that he felt strongly the peril that extremists on both sides were bringing upon the Church. It was certain that we must suppress illegal practices; but we should avoid simultaneously alienating a great body absolutely loyal to the Church. Personally he urged the reference of the Bill to a select Committee, with the view of finding a middle course. Indian Customs.

London, March 12 .- Lord George Hamiltion, in reply to Sir W. H. Holland, said that there is at present no hole of reducing the Indian customs.

Army Reform again to the Front. The supporters of the Hon. Iver Guest's amendment attacked the system of linked battalions as fantastic and unscientific.

amendment was the expression of a hasty and ill-considered reaction and would be Blake Pier. destructive of the present Army system.

Mr Belfour said it would be insane immediately to upset the system of linked bottalions. The Army question was a twofold one, because it involved the possible defence of India as well as the defence of Great Britain. It would be unwise, he said, to leave ourselves for purposes of Indian defence denuded of the power of March 24, 1903. offence elsewhere. Later.—Whereas nineteen Unionists supported Mr Beckett's amendment to the Address, nearly thirty voted in the minority in the case of the Hon. Ivor Guest's amnedment, The bulk of the Nationalists did not vote.

The Times says that the division show a Unionist revolt against the existing War Office methods. Opponents see in Mr St. John Brodrick's speeches a mistaken ideal, and consider a reaction, jeopardising the whole of the imperial defence, inevitable if there is an increasing expenditure on an unsuitable army.

Athala as a Great Trade Centre. Bombay, March 14.—An Aden corres- 245 pondent reports British military demonstra-tion in the unfriendly districts of the Aden Hinterland. He says that Athala promises to become a great centre of trade, if connected by rail with Aden, and a great market for tobacco. Caravans from several districts of Turkish Arabia pass through; and thousands of people attend the weekly market. The British troops bave formed camps in 7 three places to overswe robbers and render the caravan routes safe.

Road-Making in Somaliland. A Berbera correspondent states that the road-making between Burns and the Uuper Sheikh (sic) is progressing rapidly, only a few miles being unfinished. The track is to be re-aligned in one part, giving a straighter road and saving a few miles. Two new wells have been discovered, which have improved the route.

The flying column at Bohotle will be ready to march out when required, carrying food and water for fourteen days. The total strength is a little under a thousand. It is believed that the necessity has arisen for pushing on from Bohotle to Mudug, so as to send supplies through from Berbera to the Obbiat column.

It is probable that when the force leaves Obbiat it will abandon its base as being of no further use, owing to the monsoon and the bad harbour; and will join hands with the force operating from the Berbera side in the Mudug district, whence the future operations will be directed.

THE SANITARY BOARD ELECTION. To the Editor of the 'CHINA MAIL.'

Hongkong, March 30. Sir,-Will you be so good as to allow me to contribute a little information on the shove subject, which I think may help to clear away some of the troubled stormclouds that, according to the general trend of your leader of the 26th inst., as also that of your morning contemporary of the 27th inst., would appear still to hover over the existence of a certain section of the Colony's ratepayers. Let me first inform you that the 141 votes which returned Mr Ahmet Rumjahn as a member of the Sanitary Board on Wednesday last were made up approximate-y as follows :— 58 Europeans, many of them influential.

One-third of them were single votes and were conscientiously given. Some of the reasons why they were given may be stated without any fear of offending anybody. They are these. - Mr Rumiahn's manifesto was accepted as the plain contained therein were considered easy of ability. Mr. Rumjahu's attention to the duties demanded of him could not, it was thought, he possibly interfered with. Whereas, in the case of the other candidates, large shipping interests and responsibilities, a heavy Crimical Sessions, with additional practice in the higher courts, chambers, &c., and the possible undue influence of any individual or Trust time, tend seriously to interrupt. King, accompanied by his Royal Conreflected the brilliance of the gems An order had been issued that Corona tion robes might be assumed, but few availed themselves of this doubtful sparkling with jewels, vied with the red hand in hand, when the King signified that the Commons should be admitted. Seldom have Members of the House of Lords listened to a clearer speech than King Edward read, every word being heard with great distinctness. The business that our Ministers will have to deal with will be largely of a domestic character; perhaps the application of the Education Bill to London providing the hardest tussle. The Port of London will arouse much argument, and so will the question of the Employment of Children. The Transvaal Loan will be of universal interest, but little controversy is expected in regard to it, and with the comparative settlement of the Agrarian difficulty in Ireland, we hope to hear less of our Irish friends.

The Queen has ever evinced warm interest in the welfare of nurses, and her latest act, when, accompanied by the King, she opened the residential wing Lt. Raymond, R.N.,c Elborough, b for the nursing personel of Herbert Hospital at Woolwich, has been much appreciated by the profession. Queen Alexandra also presented medals to the ladies who are attached to the Army as members of Queen Alexandra's Imperial Military Nursing Service. Her Majesty had herself designed these medals, which consisted of an openwork oval, containing the Danish cross, surmounted by the Royal Crown, and having the letter Barrett ......0.1 'A' in the centre. A special honour was the fact that the medals were attached to ribbon which can only be used Barron ...... 4 by ladies of the Royal Household or by members of the Royal Victorian Order. Much time was spent inspecting the various uniforms; those of the matrons, in grey alpaca and broad scarlet cuffs, being peculiarly attractive.

It was a charming and graceful thought of the King and Queen to visit the model dwellings which have been erected on the site of the Millbank Prison, with the object of accommodating the labouring classes who were removed from their former residences in order to make way for the housing and improvement schemes of at present the London County Council. Without in any way being a charity, these 524 cents buildings have done much towards solving the difficult problem of providing the working classes with comfortable, well-ventilated homes, with perfect sanitary arrangements, within easy distance of their work, and at moderate rates. Two rooms with a scullery cost 7/ weekly, while an extra room may be had for 10/. One little flat, already occupied, was inspected by their Majestics, the King complimenting the owner on the taste she had displayed in the furnishing, and patting her little child. > The following notes are sent us by a correspondent:---

For the Glory, Morgan at goal was playing a sterling game, his fine fisting calling forth repeated plaudits from the large erowd of spectators. Crossman at centrehalf was a pillar of strength, his kicking very sure, and it seemed almost an impossibility to get round him. Milford was as tricky as ever, and it was a pleasure to watch the way he used his head; in conjunction with Moore and Cottall on the left wing, he played splendidly, their passing was superb and showed good and careful training. The beaten eleven had a gool man in Taylor, right back, whose clearing when hard pressed by the Glory forwards saved many a likely goal against his side. Gogle, Paton and Calbagan at right inside, centre, and left-inside, played with plenty of dash and tried time after time to get the lead when the score was equal. Morrison in goal also did well.

Although on'y those above are men-Valley. The Argonaut's defence seemed at times practically impenetrable, and only an excellently combined forward line like that of the Glory could really hope to get past the two backs. The game during the extra half hour's play brought, out a lot of rough play, the Argonauts were the greater defaulters in this respect. This resulted in the penalty being awarded their opponents a decision which cost them the Shield.

To Mr Triggs, the thanks of all football enthusiasts are due, his refereeing, not only on Saturday, but throughout the season, has been most satisfactory, and when one considers the very unenviable position of a referee, his ever-ready willingness to under-take the responsibility should be greatly appreciated.
